AMAAM Stands In Solidarity With The Haitian People In This Moment of Crisis

The Haitian People have overcome adversity for centuries, they have survived through their tradition of strength, survival and faith. “They will surmount this toll of BIBLICAL PROPORITION by their tenacity and the support of the International Community”, said Gedlu Metaferia, Executive Director of the African Mutual Assistance Association of Missouri . Mr. Metaferia further added that “the United States with its compassion and mobilization ability shall reach to the plight of the Haitian People, it is a nation that everybody looks up to in time of human catastrophe”.

Mr. Metaferia has also warned that in time of crisis false charities exploit unsuspecting donors and urges supporters to utilize internationally recognized organizations and reputable American charities. ‘We are crying with the WORLD for this incalculable loss , and we have to send whatever we have’, said Mr. Metaferia.
